

Institution of Agricultural Engineers

Branch Meritorious Award 2012

DAVID JOHN ROE

IEng CEnv MIAgrE

David moved to the East Midlands Branch from Gloucester in 2003 becoming Branch Chairman in 2006 continuing to 2009. During this period, he represented the Branch at Council.

Achieving Chartered Environmentalist status in Sept 2004, David served on the technical and policy committees for the Society for the Environment (SocEnv) until 2009.

Committed to sustainable development and reducing carbon emissions, David was supportive of Environmental topics being included and embedded in the Branch program.

The East Midlands branch actively welcomed, and were inclusive of, new IAgRE members who were Chartered Environmentalist while providing topics that would be of interest of those with a traditional background.

Committed to sustainable development and reducing carbon emissions, David is director and lead consultant of IEP Ltd. with over 35 years of experience in designing and managing land based engineering projects. In the past 6 years the emphasis has been on reducing carbon emissions through renewable energy installations, particularly wind energy projects for land owners. He keeps his mechanical skills alive by repairing farm machinery (to maintain 75 acres of grassland at home), and his motorbikes.

Support for this award for David has been unanimous amongst the current Branch committee and members.