IAgrE Branch Meritorious Award

Richard Trevarthen

IEng FIAgrE

Richard has been a recipient of the award before, but in recognition of his past work in developing young agricultural engineers. We would like his dedication to the Branch as its current Chairman to be recognised.

As the Branch has been without a Secretary, Richard has also delivered this role, liaising with those organising meetings, hosts and importantly Institution HQ. He has also found time to continue his other committee work on behalf of the Institution.

Richards dedication and drive, all done with his characteristic good humour has delivered a strong programme of events in recent years. These have been well attended by branch members young and older.

attendees are always welcomed and this has been reflected by first timers now becoming regulars.

He has brought new blood onto the committee forging links to industry and practicing engineers.

His approach to organisation and people skills is recognised by our speakers and meeting hosts who take interest in our activities.

Thus we are delighted that Richard once again receives this award in recognition of his contribution and achievements in maintaining a strong and healthy branch.
